A. Types of Information We Collect

We collect certain personal information about you – but only when that information is provided by you or is obtained by us with your authorization. We use that information to inform you about upcoming MusicaNova events, provide you with tickets to our performances, and solicit donations to support the orchestra.

Examples of sources from which we collect information include:

- Audience information cards filled out at our performances,
- Subscriptions to our mailing list,
- Ticket purchases you make via our online box office, and
- Donations you make to us.

We use third-party payment processors to handle credit and debit card transactions and do not store any card number information from audience members or donors

B. Parties to Whom We Disclose Information

As a general rule, we do not share our mailing list or disclose personal information about our audience or donors to anyone. However, to the extent permitted by law and any applicable state Code of Professional Conduct, certain nonpublic information about you may be disclosed to comply with a validly issued and enforceable subpoena or summons.

C. Confidentiality and Security of Nonpublic Personal Information

We restrict access to nonpublic personal information about you to our board members and volunteers who must use that information to provide services to you. Further disclosure and use of the information is limited by the policies of MusicaNova and applicable law as appropriate. We also maintain physical, electronic, and procedural safeguards to guard your personal information from unauthorized access, alteration, or disclosure.
